For the second straight year, Jeff was rated amongst the top ten play-by-play broadcasters in Los Angeles by the Daily News. He was ranked ahead of broadcasters from the Dodgers, Angels, Lakers, UCLA, and USC.

Montana State has several road trips towards the end of the season, keeping Jeff on the go as the Bobcats make their push towards the Big Sky Conference tournament and MSU's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1996.

Meanwhile, with baseball season approaching, Jeff has been doing double duty helping to expand the Lancaster JetHawks multimedia department, producing the media guide and game program, and working on changes to the team website.
